Author comment on "Exploring the role of bedrock representation on plant transpiration response during dry periods at four forested sites in Europe" by César Dionisio Jiménez-Rodríguez et al., Biogeosciences Discuss., https://doi.org/10.5194/bg-2021-311-AC1, 2022

We want to thank the reviewer's positive comments and constructive feedback. We provide a separate response to each query of the reviewers in the supplement file. The file contains the reviewer's comments (in blue), our reply (in black), the new additions to the document (in green), and the proposed deletions (in red). We also indicated within square brackets the line number when we refer to specific points or sections of the manuscript "[Line:]". The numbering of figures and tables of this reply are preceded by "R" aiming to differentiate them from the original figures and tables of the manuscript.
