Community comment on "Long-term incubations provide insight into the mechanisms of anaerobic oxidation of methane in methanogenic lake sediments" by Hanni Vigderovich et al., Biogeosciences Discuss., <https://doi.org/10.5194/bg-2021-223-CC5>, 2021

We thank the reviewer for the thorough and constructive review. We realize that the paper was not clear enough. In the revised version, we clarify the gap of knowledge, the aims, and the hypothesis in the introduction. We are also editing the paper all along. We will upload the revised version with the detailed response to the specific comments soon.
