Dear Dr. Leseurre:

Thank you for submitting to Biogeosciences. Two referees have evaluated your paper and you now can respond.

I would like to point out a technical issue that requires attention before eventual publication. Your manuscript uses the rainbow color palette and mixes green and red colors in figures. This is suboptimal for readers with color vision deficiencies. I therefore recommend you consult the guidelines in more details for advice on this matter.

With best regards, Jack Middelburg, handling Associate Editor
