I like the suggestion by reviewer 4 to also evaluate the occurrence of bipolar volcanic events in the 50 years after a DO onset. If that number also exceeds the expectation from the null hypothesis, this would provide clear evidence that the bipolar volcanic catalogue is biased toward periods of abrupt climate change.