Belois what we got from editorial support. Therefore, I'll upload the commented manuscript in the comments to you. I'll leave track changes on, so the changes are visible.

Dear Gaurav Savant

I see from the discussion that you have trouble uploading a revised manuscript. I think this may be because the discussion period is still in progress. When the discussion is closed and you have responded to referee comments (as you have so far) then the editorial system should tell you what to do. [To me there is some sense in only having one version of the manuscript under discussion - to avoid confusion.]

Yours sincerely

John Huthnance (editor)
