This paper is well written and inspires me by providing two kinds of datasets (i.e., RNB dataset and street view imagery benchmark dataset) as well as developing a deep learning method incorporating image context information. This work is important as the results fill a gap in the shortage of national infrastructure datasets (i.e., RNBs).