We would like to thank Nicole Khan for her comments on our manuscript. We plan to edit the MS taking into account her comments and those of the other reviewers. In particular, we will clarify how and why multiple ages may be selected for one index point within WALIS. We have already edited the "redthedocs" help following her comment on table names.

We will follow-up with a revised manuscript and a point-by-point reply to Nicole Khan's comments, making sure we clarify sea-level terminology and concepts throughout the MS.
