Dear Authors,

We have now received two anonymous reviews of the manuscript « Linear stability analysis of plane beds under flows with suspended load ». Both of them identify major issues. The topic of your manuscript is important : the inclusion of the influence of the suspended load in the formation of dunes and anti-dunes represents an interesting development. However, I share the opinion of the referees that considerably more work is required for the present manuscript to be published in E-Surf. I would therefore advise you to fully revise your manuscript in line with the reviewers recommendations. If you feel that you cannot handle the great deal of revision necessary to clarify the content of the paper within the next few weeks, we may grant you an extension of the deadline. Another possibility is to withdraw your paper, for the time being, and to resubmit an entirely new version, when it is ready.

Sincerely yours,

Eric Lajeunesse
