

Interactive comment on “Unexplained hydrogen isotope offsets complicate the identification and quantification of tree water sources in a riparian forest” by Adrià Barbeta et al.

Adrià Barbeta et al.

adria.barbeta.margarit@gmail.com

Received and published: 28 February 2019

We appreciate the positive assessment of the referee as well as his suggestions to improve the manuscript made in the previous round of review. In order to acknowledge his contribution, the interactive discussion of this previous round of review can be found in the manuscript files of the following Discussion paper, that was initially rejected:

Barbeta, A., Jones, S. P., Clavé, L., Wingate, L., Gimeno, T. E., Fréjaville, B., Wohl, S., and Ogée, J.: Hydrogen isotope fractionation affects the identification and quantification of tree water sources in a riparian forest, Hydrol. Earth Syst. Sci. Discuss., <https://doi.org/10.5194/hess-2018-402>, 2018.

C1

---

Interactive comment on Hydrol. Earth Syst. Sci. Discuss., <https://doi.org/10.5194/hess-2018-631>, 2019.

C2