The paper properly describes the topic declared by the authors. The different parts of the proposed method are presented in a detailed way, with a rich literature reference. The topic of the paper affords a challenge in the field of multirisk loss assessment, so, the comments presented in the discussion (limits and positive aspects) are agreeable.

In addition:

- A re-reading of the paper is suggested to correct some typing errors and just some language errors;
- In the last paragraphs check the use of the numbered list, to extend it to the final sentences;
- A check of the conclusion and discussion paragraph is suggested to avoid some repetitions.
