Many thanks for reading through this preface. The special issue has been an enjoyable experience.

As for lines 97-100 on page 3, the wording has been changed as follows:

The Executive Editors of five journals agreed to be involved in the special issue, the largest number to have taken part in a special issue so far. However, in the event, papers contributed to the issue were published in only three journals: History of Geo- and Space Sciences, Solid Earth and, in particular, Ocean Science.
