Author comment on "Structural complexities and tectonic barriers controlling recent seismic activity in the Pollino area (Calabria–Lucania, southern Italy) – constraints from stress inversion and 3D fault model building" by Daniele Cirillo et al., Solid Earth Discuss., <https://doi.org/10.5194/se-2021-76-AC2>, 2021

We thank Dr. Giovanni Barreca for reviewing our manuscript and for his positive feedback and helpful comments. We will provide a reorganization of our manuscript following his suggestions and also integrating them with those of Reviewer #1 who, similarly, suggested a general shortening/revision of some sections of the manuscript.

During the review phase, which is already underway, we are also progressively reviewing the English language.

Sincerely,

Daniele Cirillo on behalf of all co-authors
