Thank you. These are all interesting possibilities and hope that you can make some progress. For your consideration, we have also pursued some of these ideas relating to a unification of orbits and geophysical measures by matching the known tidal forcing cycles.

Citations:
